

Traditions of the City of Ten Thousand Buddhas

Freezing to death, we do not scheme.

Starving to death, we do not beg.

Dying of poverty, we ask for nothing.

We accord with conditions, but do not change.

We do not change, yet accord with conditions.

We adhere firmly to our three great principles.

We renounce our lives to do the Buddha's work.

We mold our destinies as our basic duty.

We rectify our lives to fulfill the Sanghan's role.

Encountering specific matters, we understand the principles.

Understanding the principles, we apply them to specific matters.

We carry on the single pulse of the patriarch's mind-transmission.

Ask yourself: Do I fight?

Ask yourself: Am I greedy?

Ask yourself: Do I seek?

Ask yourself: Am I selfish?

Ask yourself: Do I pursue personal advantage?

Ask yourself: Do I lie?

Ask yourself: Do I eat only one meal a day?

Ask yourself: Do I always wear my precept sash?

These form the traditions of the Sagely City of Ten Thousand Buddhas, and no one can change them!

The Sutra of the Buddha's Teaching on Amitābha

Thus I have heard: once the Buddha Śākyamuni was staying at the Jeta Grove in Anāthapiṇḍika's Park at Śrāvastī. Twelve hundred and fifty members of the Bhikṣu Sangha had gathered there with him, all of them eminent Arhats known for their higher knowledge.

Elder Śāriputra was there with other great disciples such as Mahāmaudgalyāyana, Mahākāśyapa, Mahākātyāyana, Mahākauṣṭhila, Revata, Śuddhipanthaka, Nanda, Ānanda, Rāhula, Gavāṃpati, Piṇḍola-bhāradvāja, Kālodāyin, Mahākapphiṇa, Vakkula, and Aniruddha. The Bodhisattva-Mahāsattvas were also there: Dharma Prince Mañjuśrī, Bodhisattva Ajita, Bodhisattva Gandhahastin, Bodhisattva Nityodukta, and so forth, together with Śakra, Chief among Devas, as well as multitudes from the heavens.

Just then, the Buddha spoke to Elder Śāriputra, saying, "West of here, beyond trillions of Buddha-lands, there is a land called 'Utmost Happiness.' In that land, at this very moment, a Buddha named Amitābha is teaching the Dharma.

"Śāriputra, why is this land called 'Utmost Happiness?' The beings of this land never suffer. They are always happy. And so this land is called 'Utmost Happiness.'

"Moreover, Śāriputra, this Land of Utmost Happiness is surrounded by seven tiers of railings, seven layers of netting, and seven rows of trees, all of them formed from four kinds of treasures. For that reason, too, this land is called 'Utmost Happiness.'

"Moreover, Śāriputra, the pools in this land are made of the seven treasures and filled with water endowed with eight fine qualities. Golden sand lines the bottom of every pool, and each is surrounded by stairways made of gold, silver, vaidūrya, and crystal. There are pavilions adorned with gold, silver, vaidūrya, crystal, grand clamshells, rubies, and carnelian. Lotus flowers as large as carriage wheels fill these pools; the blue flowers shine with blue light, the yellow flowers shine with yellow light, the red flowers shine with red light, and the white flowers shine with white light. They are all wondrous, fragrant, and pure. Śāriputra, the Land of Utmost Happiness is adorned with these fine qualities.

“Śāriputra, in that Buddha-land, there is always celestial music playing, and the ground is paved with gold. Six times a day, a rain of celestial mandarava flowers falls. Early in the morning, beings in this land gather the wondrous flowers in the folds of their robes and make offerings to trillions of Buddhas in other lands. At meal time, they return, eat their meal, and walk in meditation. Śāriputra, the Land of Utmost Happiness is adorned with these fine qualities.

“Śāriputra, there are also many colorful and wondrous birds in that land: white cranes, peacocks, parrots, egrets, kalavinkas, and birds with two heads. Six times a day, these birds sing in elegant harmony. They proclaim the teachings, such as the five spiritual faculties, the five strengths, the seven factors of awakening, and the noble eightfold path. When the beings of this land hear these birds sing, they grow mindful of the Buddha, mindful of the Dharma, and mindful of the Sangha.

“Śāriputra, do not say that these birds have been born due to their misdeeds. And why? In that land the three paths of misery do not exist; even the names of these paths are unknown there. Rather Buddha Amitābha creates these birds by transformation so that the Dharma can be widely heard.

“Śāriputra, in that Buddha-land a gentle breeze blows on rows of jewel trees and jewel nets making wondrous sounds. It is as if hundreds of thousands of musical instruments were played in harmony. All those who hear these sounds naturally grow mindful of the Buddha, mindful of the Dharma, and mindful of the Sangha. Śāriputra, this Buddha-land is adorned with these fine qualities.

“Śāriputra, why is that Buddha named Amitābha? That Buddha’s boundless light shines on all lands throughout the ten directions. Nothing can obstruct it. That is why he is called Amitābha. Śāriputra, that Buddha’s life and the lives of the beings in his land last through infinitely many asamkhyeya kalpas. That is why this Buddha is also called Amitāyus. Ten great kalpas have already gone by since he became a Buddha.

“Śāriputra, among the disciples of this Buddha there are infinitely many Hearers of the Teaching, all of them Arhats, their numbers are beyond counting. The Bodhisattvas in his assembly are also uncountable. Śāriputra, that Buddha-land is adorned with these fine qualities.

“Śāriputra, beings who are born in the Land of Utmost Happiness will never retreat on the path of awakening. Many will become Buddhas in their next life. Their numbers are beyond counting, and one can only speak of them as ‘limitless,’ ‘boundless,’ and ‘incalculable.’

“Śāriputra, beings who hear of this should vow to be born there and join with these good people. Śāriputra, beings with few blessings, virtues, and roots of goodness cannot be born there.

“Therefore, Śāriputra, good men and women who hear about Buddha Amitābha should always hold his name, with no other thoughts. By doing this for one day, two days, three or four days, five days, six days, or as long as seven days, when they approach the end of their lives, Buddha Amitābha will appear in front of them, together with his gathering of sages. When their lives come to an end, these people’s minds will be clear, and they will be born in Buddha Amitābha’s Land of Utmost Happiness.

“Śāriputra, because I have seen these good results, I want you to know about them. All who hear what I have said should make a vow to be born in that land.

“Śāriputra, just as I now praise the inconceivable merit and virtue of Buddha Amitābha, in the worlds to the east, there are Buddha Akṣobhya, Buddha Sumeru Banner, Buddha Great Sumeru, Buddha Sumeru’s Light, Buddha Wondrous Voice, and others such as these, as many as the grains of sand in the Ganges. Each of them in his own land, shows the hallmark of a wide and long tongue that covers a large billion-world system as he speaks these truthful words: ‘All you living beings should believe in this sutra called “Praises of the Inconceivable Qualities of this Buddha-Land and the Protection and

Care of All Buddhas.””

“Śāriputra, in the worlds to the south, there are Buddha Light of the Sun and Moon, Buddha Light of Renown, Buddha Great Blazing Shoulders, Buddha Lamp of Sumeru, Buddha Limitless Vigor, and others such as these, as many as the grains of sand in the Ganges. Each of them in his own land, shows the hallmark of a wide and long tongue that covers a large billion-world system as he speaks these truthful words: ‘All you living beings should believe in this sutra called “Praises of the Inconceivable Qualities of this Buddha-Land and the Protection and Care of All Buddhas.””

“Śāriputra, in the worlds to the west, there are Buddha Limitless Lifespan, Buddha Limitless Hallmarks, Buddha Infinite Banner, Buddha Great Light, Buddha Great Brilliance, Buddha Treasured Hallmarks, Buddha Light of Purity, and others such as these, as many as the grains of sand in the Ganges. Each of them in his own land, shows the hallmark of a wide and long tongue that covers a large billion-world system as he speaks these truthful words: ‘All you living beings should believe in this sutra called “Praises of the Inconceivable Qualities of this Buddha-Land and the Protection and Care of All Buddhas.””

“Śāriputra, in the worlds to the north, there are Buddha Blazing Shoulders, Buddha Excellent Voice, Buddha Invulnerable, Buddha Born of the Sun, Buddha Nets of Light, and others such as these, as many as the grains of sand in the Ganges. Each of them in his own land, shows the hallmark of a wide and long tongue that covers a large billion-world system as he speaks these truthful words: ‘All you living beings should believe in this sutra called “Praises of the Inconceivable Qualities of this Buddha-Land and the Protection and Care of All Buddhas.””

“Śāriputra, in the worlds below, there are Buddha Lion, Buddha Renown, Buddha Light of Renown, Buddha Dharma, Buddha Dharma Banner, Buddha Dharma Practice, and others such as these, as many as the grains of sand in the Ganges. Each of them in his own land, shows the hallmark of a wide and long tongue that covers a large billion-world system as he speaks these truthful words: ‘All you living beings should believe in this sutra called “Praises of the

Inconceivable Qualities of this Buddha-Land and the Protection and Care of All Buddhas.””

“Śāriputra, in the worlds above, there are Buddha Brahma Voice, Buddha King of Constellations, Buddha Superior Fragrance, Buddha Light and Fragrance, Buddha Great Blazing Shoulders, Buddha Body Adorned with Colorful Jewel Flowers, Buddha King of Sāla Trees, Buddha Jewel Flower of Virtue, Buddha Revealing All Meanings, and Buddha Like Mount Sumeru, and others such as these, as many as the grains of sand in the Ganges. Each of them in his own land, shows the hallmark of a wide and long tongue that covers a large billion-world system as he speaks these truthful words: ‘All you living beings should believe in this sutra called “Praises of the Inconceivable Qualities of this Buddha-Land and the Protection and Care of All Buddhas.””

“Śāriputra, what do you think? Why is this sutra called ‘The Protection and Care of All Buddhas?’

“Śāriputra, the Buddhas will protect and keep in mind any man or woman who hears this sutra, accepts it, and upholds it, and who hears the names of all these Buddhas. They will never retreat on the path to unsurpassed, perfect awakening. Therefore, Śāriputra, all of you should believe and accept my words and what all other Buddhas teach.

“Śāriputra, people who have already made a vow to be born in Buddha Amitābha’s land, or who are now making that vow, or who will make that vow – all are certain to never retreat on the path to unsurpassed, perfect awakening, and will be born, are now being born, or have already been born in that land. Therefore, Śāriputra, good men and good women who have faith should make the vow, ‘I will be born in that land.’

“Śāriputra, just as I now praise the inconceivable merit and virtue of all these Buddhas, they also praise my inconceivable merit and virtue, saying, ‘Buddha Śākyamuni does what is difficult to do, especially in the Saha World during the evil time of the five turbidities – the turbidity of the kalpa, the turbidity of wrong views, the turbidity of afflictions, the turbidity of living beings, and the turbidity of lifespans. Amid all these, Buddha Śākyamuni has realized unsurpassed, perfect awakening, and, for the sake of living beings, he explains this teaching, which beings in the world find hard to believe.

“Śāriputra, you should know that during the evil time of the five turbidities, I’ve done what is hard to do: I’ve realized unsurpassed, perfect awakening, and for all beings I’ve explained this teaching, which is difficult to believe. This is truly difficult!”

When the Buddha had finished teaching this sutra, Śāriputra and the Bhikshus, as well as the devas, humans, asuras, and others, rejoiced, believed, and accepted what they had heard. They bowed in reverence and departed.

Vow to Be Reborn in the Pure Land

Wholeheartedly, I take refuge
In the Buddha Amitabha,
And his Pure Land of Utmost Bliss.
May his pure light shine upon me;
May his kind vows gather me in.

Now mindfully, I recite his name:
Amitabha Tathagata.
May I be born in his Pure Land
For the sake of Awakening.

In ages past, the Buddha vowed:
“Should any being with firm resolve,
A joyful heart and steadfast faith,
In my Land vows to be born,
Recites my name even ten times,
In my Land fails to be born,
I won’t reach Full Awakening.”

By reciting the Buddha’s name,
May I enter his sea of vows.
May I accept his caring strength.
May my offenses disappear,
May my roots of goodness grow.
I will know when this life will end.
At death my body will be free

From all sickness and suffering.
My mind will not have any greed
Or any longing for this world.
My thoughts will all be straight and true.
Just as when in Chan Samadhi.

With great Sages on every side,
Holding a pure dais of gold,
Amitabha will welcome me.
In a brief thought, I will be born
In his Pure Land of Utmost Bliss.
As soon as my lotus blooms,
The Buddha I will clearly see.
Hear his teachings for Buddhahood,
And know directly for myself
The wisdom that all Buddhas share.
I will then rescue living beings
And fulfill all my Bodhi vows.

In ten directions and three times,
All the Buddhas everywhere,
Bodhisattvas, Mahasattvas.
Maha-prajna-paramita!

Three Refuges

To the Buddha I return and rely,
Vowing that all living beings
Understand the great Way profoundly,
And bring forth the Bodhi mind. (Bow.)

To the Dharma I return and rely,
Vowing that all living beings
Deeply enter the Sutra Treasury,
And have wisdom like the sea. (Bow.)

To the Sangha I return and rely,
Vowing that all living beings
Form together a great assembly,
One and all in harmony. (Bow.)

Samantabhadra's Verse of Exhortation

The day is already over
Our lives are that much less.
Like fish in evaporating water
What joy is there in this?

(Great Assembly!)

Be diligent and vigorous
As if your life were at stake.
Be mindful of impermanence
And take care never to be lax.
